Dear Colleague

UK Terrorist Threat Level raised to 'Severe'

Working together for a safer London

Heart of London Business Alliance are passing on the following message sent by Community Safe last Friday (22nd January 2010):

The threat level from international terrorism has changed from 'substantial' to 'severe' which means it is highly likely that a terrorist attack could happen in London or elsewhere in the UK. However, there is no intelligence to suggest that an attack is imminent.

We therefore continue to urge the public to remain vigilant and to report any suspicious activity to police. The Metropolitan Police Service will review its contingency planning and policing tactics following this announcement. People who live, work and visit the Capital will continue to see a wide selection of policing tactics being used.
